

Kosu Cave & Boat Ride at Chungju

Kosu is one of Korea's most famous limestone caves. The lime formation into which this cave was formed is 400-500 million years old and the cave itself is estimated to be around 150,000 years old. This cave is noted for its terrain, cave coral, aragonite, and other mineral materials, animals and plants. This 5576 feet long grotto is in its maturity stage and offers scenic rows of stalactite and stalagmite formations created by eroded shelves and subterranean water. It gets its share of visitors every day, especially during the hot summer months.

Chungju Lake, which was built by blocking the valley between Jongmin-dong and Dongnyang-myeon, is the largest and cleanest multi-purpose reservoir in Korea. The many surrounding tourist attractions (including Worak-san National Park, Chongpung Cultural Assets Complex, the Eight Scenic Wonders of Danyang, and Kosu and Nodong Caves. Pleasure ferries run between Chungju Lake and Sindanyang, attracting many tourists.

Chungju Multi-purpose Dam extends from Jongmin-dong to Dongnayng-myeon in Chungju City and was completed in 1985 after 7 years construction. The dam is 447 meters long and 97.5 meters high. The resulting lake is 6,648 square kilometers in area and contains 2.75 billion tons of water. The dam generates 844 million kilowatts of electricity each year. Pleasure boats cruise across the lake to nearby Danyang. Tourists can enjoy sightseeing at Worak-san National Park, Kudam-bong, Oksun-bong, and Geumsu-san.
